

CURIOSITY GAP

The day an AI vanished in 90 minutes

WHAT HAPPENED

A leading lab shipped its most powerful public model on a Tu

A leading lab shipped its most powerful public model on a Tuesday. Three days later a single government directive ordered it cut off from every foreign user. The model went dark worldwide in under 90 minutes.

90m

The trigger was not a scandal.
Engineers

The trigger was not a scandal. Engineers had found one narrow way to slip past its safety checks. That was enough for the tool to be pulled from millions of people who had built nothing wrong.

THE LOCKOUT

For almost two weeks, anyone outside the approved

For almost two weeks, anyone outside the approved list was locked out. Not priced out. Locked out. The line was no longer what you could pay, it was which passport you held.

THE LESSON

The restrictions were later softened after politic

The restrictions were later softened after political pressure. But the point had already landed. The best AI can now be switched off for whole countries with one memo, faster than you can react.

YOUR MOVE

The lesson is not to fear AI. It is to notice that

The lesson is not to fear AI. It is to notice that access is becoming a political decision. If your work depends on one hosted model, part of your business now lives outside your control.

Where AI is reshaping work and access. Save this f

Where AI is reshaping work and access. Save this for the next time a tool you depend on goes dark overnight.

Follow me